LATIN 2000: Theoretical Informatics: 4th Latin American Symposium Punta del Este, Uruguay, April 10-14, 2000 Proceedings (Lecture Notes in Computer Science)

This volume contains the proceedings of the LATIN 2000 International Conference (Latin American Theoretical Informatics), to be held in Punta del Este, Uruguay, April 10-14, 2000. This is the fourth event in the series following São Paulo, Brazil (1992), Valparaíso, Chile (1995), and Campinas, Brazil (1998).

LATIN has established itself as a fully refereed conference for theoretical computer science research in Latin America. It has also strengthened the ties between local and international scientific communities. We believe that this volume reflects the breadth and depth of this interaction. We received 87 submissions, from 178 different authors in 26 different countries.

Each paper was assigned to three program committee members. The Program Committee selected 42 papers based on approximately 260 referee reports. In addition to these contributed presentations, the conference included six invited talks. The assistance of many organizations and individuals was essential for the success of this meeting. We would like to thank all of our sponsors and supporting organizations. Ricardo Baeza-Yates, Claudio Lucchesi, Arnaldo Moura, and Imre Simon provided - sightful advice and shared with us their experiences as organizers of previous LATIN meetings. Joaquín Goyoaga and Patricia Corbo helped in the earliest stages of the - ganization in various ways, including finding Uruguayan sources of financial support. SeCIU (Servicio Central de Informática - Universitario, Universidad de la República) - p- vided us with the necessary communication infrastructure. The meeting of the program committee was hosted by the Instituto de Matemática - e Estatística, í Universidade de São Paulo, which also provided us with the Intranet site for discussions among PC members.
