People fed up with corrupt leaders. Lashing out on the streets in acts of desperation. Their homes and cities crumbling around them.

Sound familiar?

Welcome to 2175 A.D.

This is the saga of disparate individuals in the future ghetto of Project City Bridgeport. Eighty-six percent of the world population are dependent on the increasingly meager help of a corrupt and crumbling world government, but in the project cities the "help" is a killing kindness.

Change is coming to Bridgeport, though, as new ideas and a thirst for real freedom grows. Each in their own way, the people of Bridgeport struggle for control over their lives in defiance of a system that wants to keep them dependent and helpless even as it leads them to ruin. Follow them as their separate stories weave together, leading to one cataclysmic finale that will shake their entire world.

The Characters:

Jonah Angstrom - Jonah is an engineer and an Essential, a worker kept in virtual slave-like conditions inside Compound Six in Project City Bridgeport. Jonah yearns for freedom and love, not even understanding what either really are.

Rhea Benedict - Rhea is a Security officer inside Compound Six. When a World Assembly research project is begun at the compound, Rhea becomes the Security liaison, where she is reunited with Jonah, the man with whom she shared a friendship (and perhaps more) a decade earlier. But as Jonah's quest for freedom puts him at odds with the establishment, how will Rhea react?

Professor Nichol Jacobi - The aged professor had become jaded with the corrupt ways of the world, but then his young assistant helped him to live again. Now, will his new project help the world - or create an atrocity?

Constance Weich - Nichol Jacobi's aide and constant companion, Constance is a free spirit. What happens when her independence clashes with the oppressive ways of a project city?

Grigori Basarov - Basarov is the director of the Security sector and the most powerful man in Project City Bridgeport. He considers the city his personal kingdom, but what will happen when circumstances threaten to take it all away from him? Will he see the city destroyed first?

Madison and Louisa Santo Locke - The Lockes are the husband-and-wife leaders of Bridgeport's insurgency. Their movement, inspired by the writing of 19th century historian Alexis de Tocqueville, aims to restore democracy to North America. Madison is a patient visionary, waiting for the right time to strike against the compound, but when Louisa loses her sister in an attack and sets out alone on an apparent suicide-mission in the name of vengeance, can he find her before it is too late? Or will fate intervene?
