We always hear a lot about deadbeat dads — those who don't claim, spend time, raise, or even support their children. However we rarely hear about the fathers who want to be in their child's life, but the mothers won't allow them to? Winning the Baby Mama Drama Dilemma is a book to help non-custodial fathers obtain more control and to be able to exert their rights over their children.

37.9% of fathers have no access/visitation rights.

40% of mothers reported that they had interfered with the non-custodial father's visitation on at least one occasion, to punish the ex-spouse.

Overall, approximately 50% of mothers "see no value in the father's continued contact with his children...."

Only 11% of mothers value their husband's input when it comes to handling problems with their kids. Teachers & doctors rated 45%, and close friends & relatives rated 16%.

"The mother was the greatest obstacle to having more frequent contact with the children."

"A clear majority (70%) of fathers felt that they had too little time with their children."

"Very few of the children were satisfied with the amount of contact with their fathers, after divorce."
